

Powerful Learning Through SEL and Stories: K-8 Building Equity for All

With Author Pam Allyn

Wednesday, October 21, 2020 • 4:00 – 5:30 pm via Zoom

The loss of routine and the school environment is disorienting, but together we can unite school and home communities to create vibrant and meaningful learning experiences.

Now more than ever, the power of stories and Social Emotional Learning amplifies children's experiences and builds equity for all.

Using her 7 Strengths model, Pam Allyn will offer techniques for sustaining joy, engagement, and skill-building that educators can share with students and families.

Registration Required: www.portlandreadingcouncil.org

Before Registering, please check your membership status by emailing pennyplavala@gmail.com.

The Portland Reading Council region includes all districts in Multnomah & Clackamas counties + Beaverton, Sherwood, and Tigard-Tualatin.

Registration Fee

Free: Member: Portland Reading Council

$35 Non-Member
Includes membership in the Oregon State Literacy Association

Sponsor

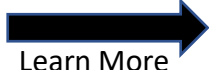

For More Information:

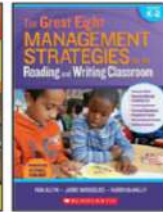

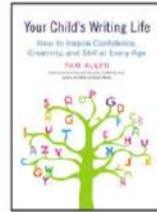

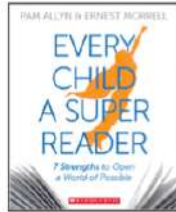

Contact Penny Plavala
503-319-3127
pennyplavala@gmail.com

Co-Sponsors:

Learn More

Pam Allyn

Pam Allyn is a leading literacy expert and award-winning author. She is the Executive Director and founder of LitWorld, a groundbreaking global literacy movement, serving children across the US and in more than 60 countries and LitLife, a group specializing in professional development for PreK-12 literacy educators.

Pam is the author of 26 books for educators, leaders, and families on reading, writing, and quality learning. She is passionate about reading, a human right that belongs to every child. She loves kids, books, and the power of education and literacy to transform lives.